Policy

The University of Texas Medical Branch is an Equal Employment Opportunity/ Affirmative Action employer and is committed to the recruitment and selection of highly qualified employees. All employees with hiring authority over classified employees will ensure that qualified candidates are given equal consideration for posted positions without regard to race, color, national origin, sex, age, religion, disability, sexual orientation, or veteran status. In all cases, the best-qualified candidate will be selected.

In support of this commitment, recruitment and selection procedures have been developed specifically for the recruitment of classified staff.

It is the responsibility of the departmental hiring authority to follow all UTMB and EEO/AA laws and regulations in the recruitment and selection of qualified individuals.

Employees seeking a transfer must have completed their initial six months of employment with UTMB and three months in their current department to be eligible for transfer. In certain circumstances, Human Resources (HR) may approve an early transfer if it is to the benefit of UTMB and both supervisors agree.

Hiring authorities shall review the HR file of the final employee applicant being considered for a position, giving special consideration to performance reviews and any disciplinary actions. There is no probation period for employees transferring into a position, however, performance appraisals are encouraged at regular intervals beginning at three months.

The University of Texas Medical Branch, in compliance with applicable federal laws and regulations, strives to maintain an environment free from discrimination against individuals on the basis of race, color, national origin, sex, age, religion, disability, sexual orientation, genetic information, or veteran status.
