Flow Sorting System and Methods Regarding Same

Inventors: James F. Leary, Christopher J. Frederickson

Description:
A system and method for sorting of objects that includes a pathway network that has a plurality of pathways and one or more branch points. A fluid composition including one or more objects can be transported through the pathway network, where one or more of the objects are analyzed and sorted at one or more branch points based on the analysis of the objects.

Patent Status: US 7452725

Contact:
Sundeep Mattamana, Ph.D.
Associate Director
Office of Technology Transfer
(409) 772-0374
sumattam@utmb.edu