Method of Identifying Antinociceptive Compounds using Protease Activated Receptor-2

Description:
The invention provides a method of decreasing pain in a subject, the method comprising administering to the subject an amount of a compound effective to decrease activation of protease activated receptor-2

Patent Status: US 7541156

Contact:
Sundeep Mattamana, Ph.D.
Associate Director
Office of Technology Transfer
(409) 772-0374
sumattam@utmb.edu