

59th Annual

National Student Research Forum

Attention: Medical, Dental, Optometry, Pharmacy, and Graduate Students

CALL FOR ABSTRACTS

Abstract Deadline: March 1st, 2018

NSRF provides a national scientific assembly, planned and managed by students, showcasing research from the fields of biomedical sciences, medical humanities, and public health studies. Medical students, dental, optometry, pharmacy, and graduate students are invited to apply. The Forum provides an opportunity for young researchers to receive critical analysis and recognition of their research efforts from established scientists. Forum will include breakout sessions, distinguished speakers, and an awards banquet.
