I. Title

SACSCOC Substantive Change Policy

II. Policy

In compliance with the policies and requirements of the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools Commission on Colleges (SACSCOC or SACS), The University of Texas Medical Branch at Galveston has established and maintains procedures to ensure compliance with SACS policies regarding substantive changes requiring notification and/or prior approval.

III. Procedures

When preparing and reviewing program proposals that may involve a substantive change, proposal sponsors (i.e., faculty), curriculum committees and the Academic Affairs Council must follow and document adherence to the approval policies and processes described in the university policy on New Educational Program Approval Process (IHOP 10.1.2)

In addition, academic units who have determined that a substantive change has been identified must prepare a prospectus in accordance with the requirements outlined in the SACS Substantive Change Policy. The prospectus must be an integral part of the new program proposal and reviewed by the proposal sponsors, curriculum committees and the Academic Affairs Council as one single prospectus.

The Office of the Vice President for Education is responsible for conducting an ongoing review of program proposals and curricular revisions to identify changes that may be substantive in nature and may require reporting or prior approval by SACS. The Council of Deans will make the final determination of changes and will initiate appropriate reporting and approval processes in compliance with SACS policies and procedures.

IV. Definitions

Substantive Change: a significant modification or expansion of the nature and scope of an accredited institution. Substantive change includes high-impact, high-risk changes and changes that can impact the quality of education programs and services. Substantive changes, including those required by federal regulations, include:

- Substantially changing the established mission or objectives of the institution or its programs.
- Changing the legal status, form of control, or ownership of the institution.
- Changing the governance of the institution.
- The addition of courses or programs that represent a significant departure, either in content
